IAAER and ACCA Early Career Researchers Workshop in Bucharest: continued funding for 2018-2020 provided by ACCA Global

Immediately preceding the AMIS 2017 conference in Bucharest (Romania), the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) and the IAAER co-organized another edition of the Emerging Accounting Scholars Research Workshop. On June 6, internationally recognized scholars led sessions designed to increase participants' research skills (for example, discussing/reviewing a research paper, basic research designs). On June 7, ten research proposals authored or co-authored by emerging scholars were presented, and guidance was provided on ways to increase the quality of the research and publication potential of these proposals. Additionally, feedback was provided on the proposals before the workshop presentation. All 18 international workshop presenting and non-presenting authors (representing eight universities) truly thank the mentors who continue to volunteer their time for the support of their academic careers. The workshop was coordinated by Catalin Albu and Nadia Albu both of Bucharest University of Economic Studies and Donna Street of the University of Dayton.

Following the success of these workshops in recent years, IAAER gratefully acknowledges ACCA's commitment to continue funding the workshops for the next three years, 2018-2020.
